DAN SMOOT

FIFTH ROLL CALLS, 1965

In four previous issues of this Report, we tabulated 56 roll call votes in the national Congress ("First Roll Calls, 1965," May 31; "Second Roll Calls, 1965," June 14; "Third Roll Calls, 1965," August 2; "Fourth Roll Calls, 1965," August 30). Tabulations herein bring the total to 84 — 42 in each chamber of the United States Congress.

Thus far in 1965, only 27 Senators (16 Republicans, 11 Democrats) have earned conservative ratings of 60% or better. Only four Senators (three Democrats, one Republican) have earned conservative ratings of 90% or better: Harry Flood Byrd and A. Willis Robertson (Virginia Democrats), 98%; Strom Thurmond (South Carolina Republican) and James O. Eastland (Mississippi Democrat), 93%.

Only 153 Representatives (102 Republicans, 51 Democrats) have earned conservative ratings of 60% or better. Of these 153, 6 have 100% ratings; 6 have 98% ratings:

▶▶ 100% — Buchanan and Edwards (Alabama Republicans), Gross (Iowa Republican), Walker (Mississippi Republican), Williams (Mississippi Democrat), Baring (Nevada Democrat);

▶▶ 98% — Andrews (Alabama Democrat), Dickinson and Martin (Alabama Republicans), Passman (Louisiana Democrat), Hall (Missouri Republican), Pool (Texas Democrat).

D. C. HOME RULE: On July 22, 1965, the Senate (by a stand of 68 to 31) passed S 1118, an administration bill to give the District of Columbia home rule. The vote is recorded in Column 29 under Senate — C indicating a conservative stand against D. C. home rule. Under our Constitution, Congress must govern the District of Columbia. S 1118 would permit partisan municipal elections in the District; would enable the District to get funds automatically from the U. S. Treasury each year, without congressional authorization or control; would enfranchise 18-year-old persons; would permit the election of a non-voting delegate from the District to the House of Representatives; would waive provisions of the Hatch Act, thus permitting government employees to participate actively in partisan politics.

MEDICARE AND SOCIAL SECURITY: On July 27, the House (by a stand of 309 to 118), and on July 28, the Senate (by a stand of 72 to 25), passed HR 6675. The votes are recorded in Column 30 under Senate, and in Column 30 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against.

President Johnson signed HR 6675 into law (PL 89-97) on July 30. The law adds medical care for the aged to the social security system; enlarges existing social security benefits and coverage; extends coverage of the Kerr-Mills health plan to an additional eight million persons; increases social security taxes, over a ten-year period, from the present 7.2% of payroll to 11.3%; and changes the taxable earnings base for social security from $4800 to $6600.

VOTING RIGHTS ACT: On August 3, 1965, the House (by a stand of 335 to 81) and on August 4, the Senate (by a stand of 80 to 19), passed S 1564, the Voting Rights Act of 1965. The votes are recorded in Column 31 under Senate, and in Column 34 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against.

President Johnson signed the bill into law (PL 87-110) on August 6. Under this law, U. S. Attorney General Nicholas deB. Katzenbach is already directing the registration of illiterate negroes in selected southern areas. For details, see "Voting Rights Bill" and "The Civil Rights of Perry Smaw" — the May 10, 1965, and September 20, 1965, issues of this Report.

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN AFFAIRS: On August 11, 1965, the Senate (by a stand of 63 to 36) passed HR 6927. The vote is recorded in Column 32 under Senate — C indicating a conservative stand against.

The Senate, on August 30, and the House, on August 31, passed (by voice votes) a compromise version of HR 6927. President Johnson signed it into law (PL 89-174) on September 9. The law creates a cabinet level Department of Housing and Urban Affairs to administer the federal government's housing and urban renewal programs, mass transit subsidies, and other programs which are converting city governments into begging dependencies of the federal bureaucracy.

CIVIL RIGHTS EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES: For the 1965 fiscal year, the Johnson administration requested, and Congress granted, $8,000,000 for the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to conduct civil rights educational activities. The administration requested $8,000,000 for the 1966 fiscal year, but the House approved only $5,000,000. When the bill (HR 8639) went to the Senate, Senator Jacob K. Javits (New York Republican) offered an amendment to grant the full $8,000,000 requested by the administration. On August 12, the Senate (by a stand of 71 to 21) rejected Javits' amendment. The vote is recorded in Column 33 under Senate — C indicating a conservative stand against increasing funds for civil rights educational activities.

FOREIGN AID: On August 19, the House (by a stand of 261 to 167), and on August 24, the Senate (by a stand of 70 to 28), passed HR 7750, authorizing foreign aid expenditures of $3.36 billion during fiscal year 1966. These votes are recorded in Column 37 under Senate, and in Column 38 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against foreign aid authorization.

On September 8, the House (by a stand of 259 to 162) passed HR 10871, appropriating $3.28 billion for foreign aid during fiscal year 1966. This vote is recorded in Column 41 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against appropriating tax money for foreign aid. The Senate vote will be recorded in a subsequent Report.

POVERTY WAR: The Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 (President Johnson's Poverty War bill) gave state governors power to veto proposed federal anti-poverty programs affecting local or state governments. In 1965, the Act was amended and extended by HR 8283, which removed the governors' veto power.

On August 17, Senator Paul Fannin (Arizona Republican) offered an amendment to restore the governors' veto power. The Fannin amendment was defeated by a vote of 45 to 45, with Vice President Hubert Humphrey casting the tie-breaking vote against the amendment. The vote is recorded in Column 33 under Senate — C indicating the 45 Senators who cast conservative votes for the Fannin amendment and 3 Senators who took a public stand for it but did not actually vote; L indicating the 45 Senators who cast liberal votes against the Fannin amendment and 4 who took public stands against it without actually voting.

On August 18, Senator Peter H. Dominick (Colorado Republican) offered an amendment to restore some of the governors' veto power. The Dominick amendment was defeated by an actual vote of 43 to 42. Seven Senators who did not vote took a public stand for the Dominick amendment; five who did not vote took a public stand against the amendment. Thus, if all Senators who took a public stand had voted, the Dominick amendment would have carried by 49 to 48. In Column 34 under Senate, we record the stand on the Dominick amendment — C indicating those 49 Senators who took a conservative stand for the amendment, L indicating the 48 who took a liberal stand against.

On August 19, the Senate (by a stand of 66 to 33) passed HR 8283, authorizing $1.65 billion for the "war on poverty" during fiscal year 1966 — with the governors' veto power deleted. This vote is recorded in Column 35 under Senate — C indicating a conservative stand against.

On July 22, the House (by a vote of 255 to 168) passed a version of HR 8283 that is different from the version passed by the Senate on August 19. The House vote is recorded in Column 29 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against.

The House-passed bill authorizes $1.9 billion for fiscal 1966, and allows governors some veto power. Action on a compromise version was completed September 24.

D. C. CRIME BILL: On September 3, 1965, the Senate passed HR 5688 to amend District of Columbia crime laws. Among other things, the bill invalidated the Mallory Rule and the Durham Rule — rules of evidence (handed down by the U. S. Supreme Court and by a U. S. Court of Appeals) which have made prosecution of heinous crimes extremely difficult (often impossible) in the District of Columbia.

Prior to passage of HR 5688, Democrat Senators Robert F. Kennedy (New York) and Joseph D. Tydings (Maryland) offered a motion to delete the section which invalidated the Mallory and Durham Rules. The Senate defeated the Kennedy-Tydings motion by a stand of 70 to 26. This vote is recorded in Column 38 under Senate — C indicating a conservative stand against the Kennedy-Tydings motion.

HIGHER EDUCATION ACT: On September 2, 1965, the Senate (by a stand of 95 to 4) passed HR 9567, the Higher Education Act of 1965. The vote is recorded in Column 40 under Senate — C designating the four Senators who cast conservative votes against the unconstitutional bill.

HR 9567 authorized $4.7 billion for aid to colleges and college students during the next five years. The Communities Service Program section of the bill authorized $50 million a year for colleges to devise programs and make studies concerning city planning, guidance for social workers and anti-poverty workers, management of community enterprises, community welfare administration.

Prior to passage of HR 9567, the Senate (by a stand of 66 to 29) adopted an amendment, proposed by Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen (Illinois Republican), to prevent government control of membership policies of fraternities, sororities, private clubs, religious organizations. The vote on the Dirksen amendment is recorded in Column 39 under Senate — C indicating a conservative stand for the amendment.

FARM BILL: On August 19, 1965, the House (by a stand of 237 to 188) and, on September 14, the Senate (by a stand of 74 to 25), passed HR 9811, the administration's omnibus farm bill. The votes are recorded in Column 41 under Senate and in Column 39 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against.

For details on the omnibus farm bill, see the September 6, 1965, issue of this Report, "Power Politics."

HIGHWAY BEAUTIFICATION: S 2084, the Highway Beautification and Scenic Development Act, gives the Secretary of Commerce power to control (or banish) signs, and anything else the Secretary considers unsightly, near interstate and primary highways. The bill gives the Secretary power to override state determinations even on primary roads built with state funds. By a stand of 52 to 37, the Senate rejected conservative efforts to delete this grant of totalitarian power to the federal bureaucracy. The vote is recorded in Column 42 under Senate — C indicating a conservative stand for deleting the federal veto power over state decisions.

The Senate roll call on final passage of S 2084 will be recorded in a later Report.

HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT ACT: On July 26, the Senate (by voice vote) passed HR 7984, the Housing and Urban Development Act. The House (by a stand of 256 to 173) passed the bill on July 27. The House vote is recorded in Column 31 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against the bill, which expands existing public housing and urban renewal programs, and which authorizes the rent subsidy scheme. For details, see the July 19, 1965, issue of this Report, "Government Guaranteed Security."

President Johnson signed HR 7984 into law (PL 89-117) on August 10.

RIGHT TO WORK REPEAL: On July 28, 1965, the House (by a stand of 226 to 202) rejected conservative efforts to kill HR 77, which, by repealing Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, will enable the federal government to invalidate state right-to-work laws. The conservatives had tried to kill HR 77 by offering a motion to recommit. When their recommittal motion was defeated, the House had a roll call on final passage. HR 77 was passed, by a stand of 223 to 205. The votes are recorded in Columns 32 and 33 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against repeal of the right-to-work section of the Taft-Hartley Act. The bill is pending in the Senate.

For details on the right-to-work controversy, see the July 12, 1965, issue of this Report, "The Right To Work." For information on administration and union pressures for passage of HR 77, see the September 6, 1965, issue of this Report, "Power Politics."

IBRD AND IFC CHANGES: On August 4, 1965, the House (by a stand of 331 to 54) passed S 1742, amending charters of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and of the International Finance Corporation (IFC). The vote is recorded in Column 35 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against.

S 1742 virtually eliminates congressional control over operations of these two organizations which lend American tax money abroad. By making it easier for foreigners to get U. S. taxpayers' money, the bill will strengthen foreign competition which is already hurting American workers and manufacturers, and is contributing to our balance of payments deficits.

PUBLIC WORKS: On August 12, the House (by a stand of 257 to 149) passed S 1648, the Public Works and Economic Development Act. The vote is recorded in Column 37 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against.

Prior to passage, the House (by a stand of 234 to 173) rejected a conservative recommittal motion which would have provided for annual congressional review of the economic development loan fund; would have required that funds for construction or improvement projects be spent on American-made products; and would have deleted provisions for government loans and guarantees for the purchase or development of land. The vote on the recommittal motion is recorded in Column 36 under House — C indicating a conservative stand for the defeated motion.

President Johnson signed S 1648 into law (PL 89-136) on August 26. For details, see "Toward A Socialist Dictatorship," the July 5, 1965, issue of this Report.

AID TO FEDERALLY IMPACTED SCHOOLS: For years, the federal government has been giving special aid to schools "impacted" by children of federal employees. Schools were considered "federally impacted" if children of federal employees constituted 6% of enrollment. On August 30, the House (by a stand of 305 to 37) passed HR 9022, extending and amending this special school aid program. The vote is recorded in Column 40 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against.

HR 9022 redefines "federally impacted" to mean schools with 3% of enrollment from families of federal employees; continues aid to schools previously receiving the aid even though federal military bases which caused them to be impacted have been closed; authorizes aid to schools damaged or destroyed by a "major disaster."

FEDERAL AID TO ARTS: On September 15, 1965, the House (by a stand of 259 to 136) defeated a conservative motion to kill HR 9460, which authorizes expenditure of $20 million a year to aid the arts and humanities. The vote is recorded in Column 42 under House — C indicating a conservative stand against this dangerous, unconstitutional step toward government control of the arts.

After defeating the motion to kill, the House passed HR 9460 by voice vote. President Johnson signed the bill into law (PL 89-209) on September 29.

WHO IS DAN SMOOT?

Born in Missouri, reared in Texas, Dan Smoot went to SMU getting BA and MA degrees, 1938 and 1940. In 1941, he joined the faculty at Harvard as a Teaching Fellow, doing graduate work for a doctorate in American civilization. From 1942 to 1951, he was an FBI agent: three and a half years on communist investigations; two years on FBI headquarters staff; almost four years on general FBI cases in various places. He resigned from the FBI and, from 1951 to 1955, was commentator on national radio and television programs, giving both sides of controversial issues. In July, 1955, he started his present profit-supported, free-enterprise business: publishing The Dan Smoot Report, a weekly magazine available by subscription; and producing a weekly news-analysis radio and television broadcast, available for sponsorship by reputable business firms, as an advertising vehicle. The Report and broadcast give one side of important issues: the side that presents documented truth using the American Constitution as a yardstick. If you think Smoot's materials are effective against socialism and communism, you can help immensely — help get subscribers for the Report, commercial sponsors for the broadcast.
